In order to access MDCP reporting forms on Google Docs, consider the following.

1. You will need to have an email and password registered with Google. You can register the email you normally use or you can create a gmail.com account. If you already have a gmail.com account, you should just sign in.
2. Tell the MDCP director what email address you have registered. He will need to know so he can give you access to the report form.
